Dealing with Mentally Ill And Chemically Dependent Offenders

What: Statewide Summit

Who: Criminal Justice and Human Services Leaders & Elected Officials

When: September 18, 2006, 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Where: Washington State Criminal Justice Training Commission

- Please join elected officials and leaders in law enforcement, corrections, prosecution, public defense, courts, human services, treatment, public health, and mental health/chemical dependency advocacy for a facilitated discussion and planning event.
- The cost of criminal justice in our communities is rising every year and we are over capacity in many of our jails. We MUST do something about this now!
- The management of Mentally Ill and Chemically Dependent offenders is one of the main drivers behind the cost and capacity crisis. This statewide issue is impacting all of our communities and local governments.
- We will educate elected officials about the issues with the current system, make recommendations for addressing the problems, and end the day with an action plan for change.
- Watch for further information about registration and featured speakers. Contact: Raeanne Myers at rmyers@waspc.org.
